FROM THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

BY TITO COLEMAN

May we live in interesting times!!! The one bedrock reliable element is the ongoing support and activity levels from the FQ community.

Meanwhile, the broader FQ community continues to support our current level of funded activities, with great potential to increase and expand the programs as funding is available. We continue with a conservative approach to spending, but have been on the lookout for good opportunities to invest in good programs at a larger scale.

We have an increase in requests submitted by active PCVs, in support of a range of professional development grants for their counterparts, and the PC/DR office is enthusiastic about our partnership. FQ receives the requests via an online submission generator, and the DR-based FQ committee reviews and recommends the grantees for funding support.

One of the proven winners has been our support of the Instituto Técnico Superior Comunitario (ITSC) transportation scholarships over the past three years. ITSC has consistently provided excellent reporting, and we have been very impressed by the grantees we have met on our site visits—bright, fresh talent with compelling stories about how our modest support makes their continuing education possible. Transportation continues to be the single largest obstacle for them to complete their education. The FQ board has approved an increase in the funding level to ITSC, noting that it is a very cost-effective way to make a significant impact on a large group of people, with 39 students currently supported with modest but “game-changing” travel support. We would like to consider expansion, with your support and encouragement!!

The Lou Ferrand University Scholarship program continues with three current grantees, providing us with a more robust view into the difference a full university program can make in a life. We are evaluating this pilot program, recognizing that it requires a higher degree of hands-on effort and administrative systems in place, and will be discussing the best options going forward. Funding is a constraint, as it does carry a higher cost per grantee than our other programs, and having an efficient administrative system in place that does not rely completely on the goodwill of our partner organizations will be an important factor.

Please let us know if you would like to become personally involved in FQ. We continue to need on-the-ground presence and support for our grantees, if you are still in country. The personal touch makes a big difference, and the satisfaction of mentoring is boundless.

We know that you have many competing and compelling candidates for your generosity. The numbers of political candidates seems to be growing epidemically at both the state and national levels, and they seem to be more persistent and omnipresent on social media. That is all good and necessary, and part of an inevitable evolution. Our hope is that you continue to see Fondo Quisqueya as a permanent and ongoing part of your giving strategy, and we invite your feedback as well as donations!

The FQ board is a volunteer board, self-funded in our level of participation throughout the year. We can only do this with your support, and we think we can do better: only 12% of those in our database contribute funding for our programs. Please take a few minutes to show your support. Similar to our electoral participation rates, imagine what is possible if TWICE the number of people participated!! Or THREE TIMES!!!! Endless potential indeed. The new tax laws remove the old incentives to make charitable contributions for most people, but it is clear that tax law changes have not been a deterrent or motivator for most of you. Please continue!!!

Our donors vary widely across the United States, and we love you large and small!!! Not surprisingly, Virginia, Maryland and DC dominate in contributions, with New York and Michigan in robust top five positions. We welcome any of you to apply your many skills to increase our potential by initiating FQ networking and fundraising efforts.

TWO FQ BOARD MEMBERS VISIT THE INSTITUTO TÉCNICO

In December 2018, two FQ board members (Bill Threlkeld and Mike Benson) visited the Instituto Técnico Superior Comunitario (ITSC) in Santo Domingo. Fondo Quisqueya has been providing funding to ITSC to cover the transportation costs of a select group of low-income students who have to travel long distances and take several buses/ public cars to reach the college.

The board members met with ITSC staff members, including the Rector and Vice Rectors and the Director of Student Services, as well as 10 students who are receiving FQ transportation scholarships. ITSC staff gave several presentations, and each of the students talked about the importance of their scholarship in helping them be able to continue their education. After the meeting, the board members were given a tour of the campus.

NINE GRANTEES RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS FOR TRAINING COURSES

In early 2019, Fondo Quisqueya awarded scholarships to nine grantees for training activities such as barber, secretarial, pharmacy, and information technology courses. Each of the grantees is sponsored by a current Peace Corps Volunteer. The grantees live in communities across the DR including Barahona, Peravia, Monte Cristi, Monte Plata, Hato Mayor, and Santo Domingo.

TREASURER’S REPORT

BY BILL THRELKELD

First, thank you for your outstanding support as we rounded the corner from 2018 to 2019. Closing out 2018, we received just a tad above $19,000 in income from contributions which, with added dividend income of about $4,600, brought our total revenues for the year to $23,600. Our expenses for 2018 were about $28,200, 80% of which were the approximately $23,000 we gave out in grants and scholarships supporting low-income Dominicans in their training and education pursuits. As an all-volunteer organization, FQ’s administrative costs were only 3.5% of its total yearly expenses.

A month into 2019, those year-end checks boosted our revenue by about $9,600, and we have since added close to $3,000 in contributions, bringing our 2019 year-to-date total revenues to approximately $12,600. This is in the ballpark of the halfway mark, in terms of our income target for the year. Again, thank you!

Other good news is that we are starting to see a regular flow of scholarship applications recommended by current Peace Corps Volunteers. Some re-energized communications strategies have resulted in FQ having the pleasure to approve more than $2,200 in small scholarships in 2019 for nine community members seeking to improve opportunities for themselves and their communities. We are so pleased to reconnect with the Peace Corps community, and those they serve, in this way.

We have budgeted about $29,000 for grants and scholarships this year, so we look forward to your continued support and, if you are reading this and have not given to FQ before, please consider donating in some way. A small amount each month through automatic bill-pay can add up to a nice annual contribution. Maybe your employer has a matching program? You can even make FQ the beneficiary of your purchases on Amazon, through the AmazonSmile program (smile.amazon.com). Did you know that only about 300 of those who receive this newsletter (about 2,400 people) make a contribution? If half of our readers made just a $20 donation, that comes out to $24,000!

Enjoy your spring/summer, and I look forward to updating you again in the fall.
